

I am concerned about the LPFM service if it would result in any existing FM stations being forced off translators. I listen to Air 1 network (88.7 Phoenix) and am told that we could lose our broadcast. I listen to this station quite a lot, as do many of my friends. It's a listener supported station and there is no equivalent station locally. I think having a network helps us to have a higher quality station than could be had with a strictly local station. Thank you.
